

Rhian French Communications

I specialise in helping you find the right words to reach all the right people in all the right places but don't just take my word for it – here's what other communications professionals say about working with me ...

"Rhian is a consummate professional who is able to tailor work to any audience. She is customer focused, supremely well organised and totally reliable."

Scott Sinclair, former Head of Corporate Communications, Ordnance Survey, Southampton

"Rhian's contribution to our creative projects has been of unquestionable value. She is professional, intelligent, and enthusiastic, but most importantly, a talented writer. Her ability to work quickly and with diverse subject matter never fails to impress. I would have no hesitation in recommending Rhian to anybody looking for a creative copywriter. She really is a pleasure to work with."

Ian Mumford, Creative Director, The Escape Design and Web Agency, Basingstoke

"This is an excellent job ... it articulates our key messages, which are rather technical, in easy to understand terms and clearly conveys our vision to stakeholders across Europe."

Dave Lovell, EuroGeographics Executive Director

"Rhian French Communications is a very professional business to work with. Rhian understands my business and has really inspiring ideas about how to promote it. She is also very friendly and approachable. I would definitely recommend her. "

April Mawhinney, Designer and Maker, Little Red Designs, Southampton

"Rhian not only translated our complex research findings into plain English but also produced a highly readable, engaging leaflet about a major new initiative which benefits all our clients."

Marie Spanswick, Head of Public Relations, Testway Housing, Andover

"As our first Communications Manager, Rhian was central to the planning of our 10th anniversary celebrations, which brought greatly increased media coverage to the charity, and culminated in the highly successful launch of a £12 million appeal for a new hospice for young people."

Ray Kipling, Chief Executive, Naomi House Children's Hospice, Hampshire
